Exponentially Increasing Product Market Share with Website Content

Jack Billimack - SEO Manager - Seer Interactive

Background

You just joined Seer and are kicking off a new project with DirecTV. Their goal is to earn more of the organic market share for the most competitive products in the space. During the BizDev process, it was uncovered that content would be the key to this achieving this goal.

Here's what we're seeking to understand:

- What keywords/keyword categories appear to offer the most opportunity? Why?
- What is the current landscape of these keyword results? What's the opportunity for DirecTV?
- Who is winning in the space? What are they doing to be successful?
- What does the keyword research and competitive assessment tell us about DirecTV's audience and their needs? What problems are they trying to solve?
- Based on your research above, what are 1-3 content recommendations you would make?

Please include supporting data along with any information about how you arrived at the calculations.
